Just like a ‘virtual tour guide’ the Point Nepean Audio Guide is a must for any visit to Point Nepean National Park – it is a valuable insight into a place with so many stories to tell.

The history of Point Nepean spans back thousands of years to the Boonwurrung people.

Since then the park has been used to quarantine people arriving in Victoria, defend the colony of Victoria and for military training of our army personnel.

Point Nepean has a diversity of places to see including the military forts and tunnels, the Quarantine Station and the memorial where Prime Minister Harold Holt disappeared. There are views of spectacular coastline, coastal tracks through moonah woodland to explore and native wildlife to discover.

We hope you enjoy this special place and keep returning to explore as the stories of Point Nepean’s rich history continues to unfold.

End of Point Nepean Road, Portsea. Open everyday.
